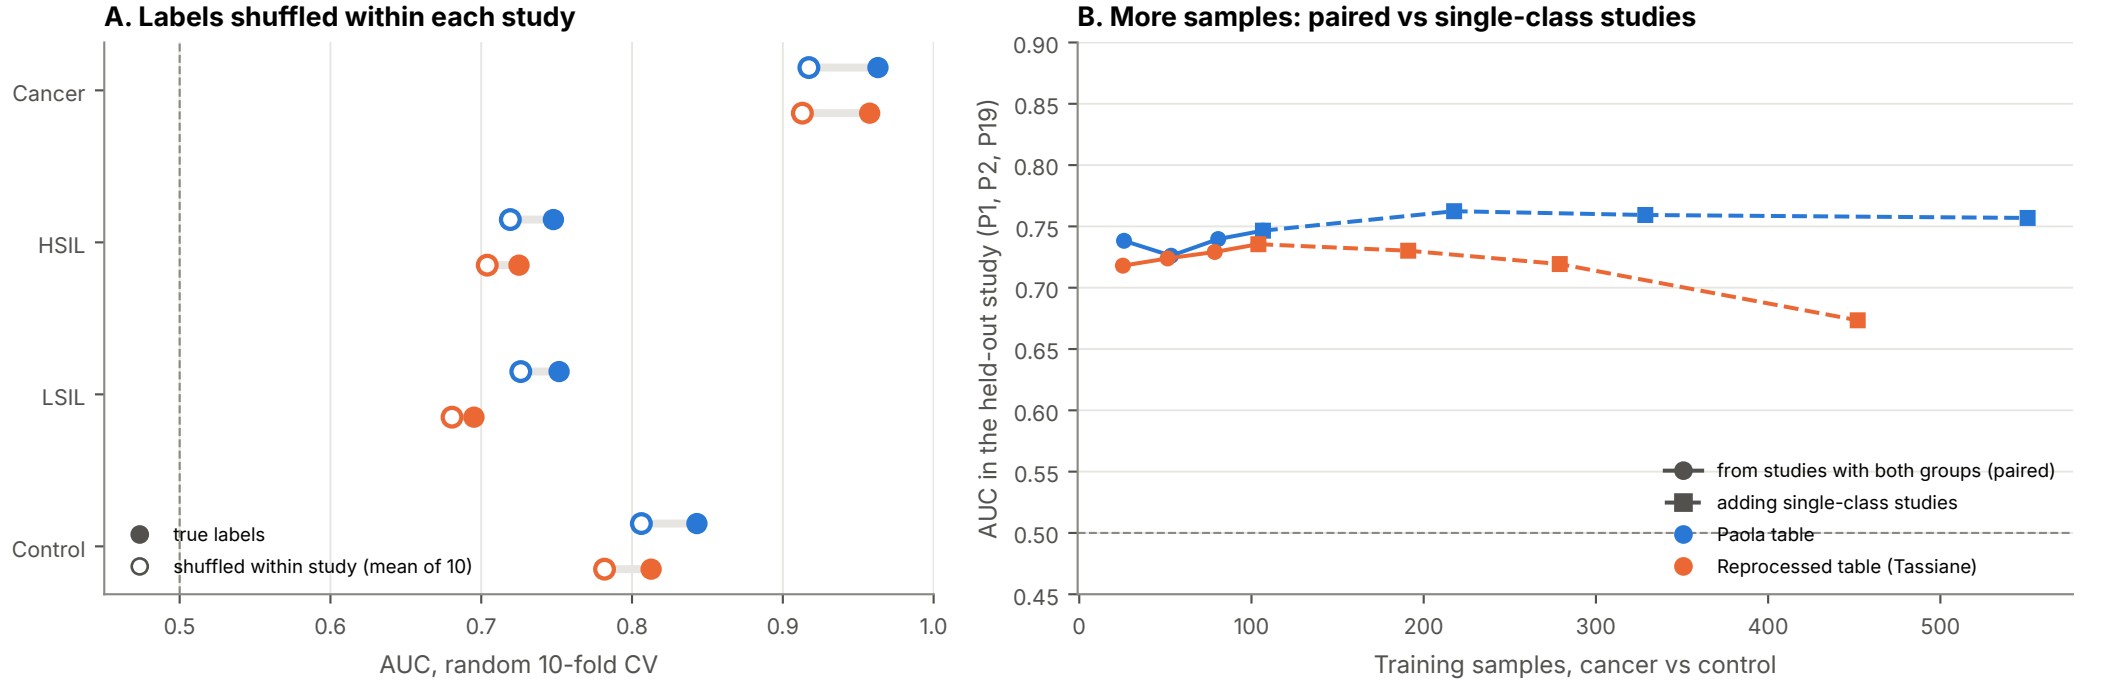
Does a larger N from single-class studies help?



A: shuffling the clinical labels inside each study keeps about 95% of the random-CV AUC, so the pooled AUC comes from which study a sample belongs to. B: Random Forest, P22 excluded (batch confounded). About 100 paired samples give the same AUC on an unseen study as adding 350-450 samples from cancer-only and control-only studies.