Differential abundance shrinks when study enters the model